Bourbon Gun Club Shoot.

The Bourbon Gun Club held its regular shoot at the Fair Grounds Friday afternoon and some excellent scores were made. A number of Cynthia's sportsmen took part in the contest. Mr. Woody was highest for visitors with score of 87 out of possible 100. John Yerkes carried off the trophy which has been tied up for several shoots, with his partner in business, Walter Kenney, a close second. The latter finished with a perfect score of 25 birds but Yerkes' handicap put him one to the good.

The Fayette Gun Club has donated a handsome trophy to be shot for at the next shoot. The Paris scores were as follows: J. W. Thomas 87; J. C. Kenney 87; Walter Kenney 86; C. K. Thomas 88; J. W. Yerkes 82; Carey E. Moran 84; J. Q. Ward 82 and Rudolph Davis 80. James Buckner 78 and Mr. Dudley 76. Woman Killed in Ruckerville Sunday Morning.

Lena Cooper, colored, was shot and instantly killed in the negro suburb of Ruckerville Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Jim Adair, Joe Baker and Richard Creth, all negroes the latter a preacher, were arrested several hours afterwards by Sheriff E. P. Clark, Deputy Sheriff W. T. Talbott and policemen Bishop and Burke charged with the killing, and are in jail awaiting their examining trial, which is set for Thursday morning.

Coroner Rudolph Davis held an inquest yesterday morning, and the evidence was very conflicting. It seems that Baker, Adair and Creth drove up to a restaurant in Ruckerville, and Baker became involved in a quarrel with Joe Harris, a negro standing in the street. That after the buggy started off, Baker, or "Red Sam" as he is perhaps better known, turned and presumably fired at Geo. Harris, the ball striking a picket in fence, glancing off and striking Lena Cooper, who was standing near the fence. One ball entered the woman's heart, and one entered several inches above the heart. The witnesses varied to the number of shots fired, some said only one, others two, three and even four. There was testimony that Baker and Adair had both fired. The woman had formerly been Baker's wife.

The jury finally brought in the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that Lena Cooper, came to her death from a pistol shot fired by Jim Adair or Joe Baker. E. F. RASH, Foreman."
